If a problem arises, you may contact us by completing the form available here. Most likely we will not address issues unless they are severe. Further, in the event of an issue that we will address, most likely we will not respond directly to you, but rather we will let the entire class know by an email and a discussion forum post. Note: Instructors can still post to the forum and you will be able to see the forum, you just cannot post to the forum during the exam.
