QQ1

QQ1

0 points possible (ungraded)

Based on the introduction you just heard, which of the following statements is true?

- ☐ a) Supply chains are only used for perishable products
- ☐ b) Every product type has a unique and dedicated supply chain
- ☒ c) Every product is part of multiple supply chains ✓
- ☐ d) Supply chains for high fashion women's shoes have nothing in common with that for bananas

Explanation

As products move from original source to final consumption, they will be part of many different supply chains. The end to end supply chain for a product will consist of many different companies' supply chains. Answer (d) is not correct, as we discussed, since both items share a level of perishability of the product.
