0 points possible (ungraded)
By enrolling in an EdX course, you have already agreed with the EdX Honor Code, which means that you will do the following. Please check all boxes to indicate that you agree to do the following.

☐ Complete all problems with your own work and only your own work. You will not submit the work of any other person or have anyone else submit work under your name. ✔

☐ Maintain only one user account and not let anyone else use your username and/or password. Having two user accounts registered in this course will constitute cheating.

☐ Not engage in any activity that would dishonestly improve your results, or improve or hurt the results of others.

☐   Not collaborate with anyone the exam questions. This means comparing answers, working as teams, or sharing answers in any way.

☐   Not post or share exam problems questions in any way, including any where on the internet. ✔

We will strictly enforce this honor code pledge. Learners found violating this pledge will be dealt with directly. If we become aware of any suspicious activity we reserve the right to remove credit, not award a certificate, revoke a certificate, ban from this and other courses in the MITs Micromasters Program in Statistics and Data Science as well as notify edX for other actions. We take academic honesty very, very seriously at MIT. With the introduction of the Micromasters Credential, the importance of honesty in work has been elevated to a much higher level than before. We will diligently monitor this and be very proactive.
